The night
Brings a dream to all
Sessions in the grill
Trips to the hardroad
Week-end dances
Name bands
And a little culture in the Chapel
At times
A good night kiss before
The house mother pulls you in

And the

Contacts and friendships
A vital part of that education
Formed and strengthened
In many ways
By many people
And many things
In the class rooms
And dorms
And, of course
The grill
Even elections
And the politicians
Add their flavor
Here at Ole Miss where Everyone speaks

DR. JOHN D. WILLIAMS

Memories have a way of growing sweeter and more precious with age. Campus life is so full and busy that few have the time and the facilities to gather pictures, names, events, and information that will mean so much in reviewing and refreshing memories of the glowing days of youth at the University of Mississippi. This OLE MISS does it for you. As part of the record I want each of you to know that I have enjoyed in full measure my association with you. We fervently hope you will keep in touch with your Alma Mater throughout the years. Our interest is with you always.

THE COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

VICTOR A. COULTER
Dean of the College of Liberal Arts

The College of Liberal Arts is the oldest school on the University of Mississippi's campus, being the only one contained in the original make-up of the University at the time of its opening in 1848. At its foundation the College of Liberal Arts offered: mental and moral philosophy, logic, belles-lettres, political economy and international law, mathematics, astronomy, chemistry, botany, geology, mineralogy, Latin, Greek, Hebrew, and French. Since its establishment, the College of Liberal Arts has widened its scope to meet the changing needs of its students. Many of the departments have divided to become more efficient—the department of belles-lettres has become departments of English and History.

This academic department of the University, founded with the school under President George Frederick Holmes, is now the College of Liberal Arts under the direction of Dean Victor Aldine Coulter.

ROBERT J. FARLEY
Dean of the School of Law

THE SCHOOL OF LAW

The School of Law, first the Department of Law, was established by a legislative enactment in 1854. The first incumbent of the newly formed Chair of Law and Governmental Science was William F. Sterns. The department of Law was of course closed in 1861. When it was reopened in 1867, it was headed by that famous Mississippian, L. Q. C. Lamar. At present, Robert J. Farley is Dean of the School of Law.

When the school was first opened, the defined course of study for the Bachelor of Law degree was composed of two sessions ten months in length, and the Socratic method of instruction was employed. In 1909 the length of the course was changed, thus taking two sessions of nine months to graduate. At present a program of study in the School of Law is designed to take the student six full semesters.

In 1857 by enactment of the legislature the conferring of the Degree of the Bachelor of Law was made sufficient proof of knowledge of the law to obtain for the holder a license to practice law in the courts of Mississippi.

SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

FREDERIC H. KELLOGG
Dean of the School of Engineering

Though the School of Engineering was not organized as such until 1900, courses in Engineering were offered by the University at the time of the reopening of the school immediately after the close of the War Between the States. A department of physics, astronomy, and civil engineering was organized in 1865. In 1867 the first two were combined leaving the civil engineering as a separate department, or school, in the Academic Department.

After the School of Engineering was begun in 1900, there followed various departmental changes which were necessary to consolidate the departments. Since 1903 when the legislature made its first appropriation, many more large sums of money have been given for new equipment, and recently Mr. Bob Carrier gave the University its new Engineering Building.

With Dr. Frederick H. Kellogg as its Dean, the School of Engineering today offers an integrated program of four, five, and six year curricula, parts of which are tied in with the department of chemistry, the School of Commerce and Business Administration, and with the department of geology.

FORREST W. MURPHY
Dean of Education

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

This school was organized in 1903. However prior to this time there had been a chair of Pedagogy which was established in 1893. The annual catalogue shows progress and growth in this department which led to the creation of the school itself. The first Dean of the School of Education was J. G. Deupree.

In 1908 the Dean started the extensive task of developing the high school system of the state in connection with and with the cooperation of the General Education Board. This work added to the Dean's title of Professor of Psychology the title of Professor of Secondary Education. Since this time the School of Education has developed along two lines: it has graduated students with the high standards necessary in the teaching field and it has developed with the Public School System of Mississippi and expanded so as to best serve and improve it.

The School of Education is now headed by Dean Forrest W. Murphy.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

DAVID S. PANKRATZ
Dean of the School of Medicine

The School of Medicine was founded by a special act of the Board of Trustees in 1903. It embraced only the first two years of the regular four year course. It met with much difficulty during the first years of its early existence; not only because of inadequate facilities and quarters, but also because of opposition of physicians throughout the state to a medical school away from a large city.

These difficulties were overcome in a very few years, and recently every dream came true when the new Medical School in Jackson was completed. This new building has the best in all types of facilities and quarters. The course of study has been lengthened to include the complete course of four years and the enrollment has increased as students take advantage of this school.

David S. Pankratz is the Dean of the School of Medicine.

ELMER L. HAMMOND
Dean of the School of Pharmacy

SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

The School of Pharmacy was established at the University in July, 1918. For the first session, there were fifteen applications; a gratifying number considering the department had been opened only two months prior to registration.

The Pharmacy School began to experience its largest period of expansion with the erection of the Chemistry and Pharmacy Building in 1923. Prior to this time the department had been operating in inadequate, overcrowded quarters which made improvement and expansion practically impossible. With the acquisition of this new building the department was able to increase the number of laboratories and install improved equipment.

Under the guidance of Dean Elmer L. Hammond the School of Pharmacy has become one of the finer Pharmacy schools in the South.

SCHOOL OF COMMERCE AND BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

CLIVE F. DUNHAM

Dean of the School of Commerce and Business Administration

The School of Commerce and Business Administration was founded at the University of Mississippi in 1917. In the beginning a general course was offered in banking, transportation, and merchandising; while not attempting to differentiate in these separate subjects. The group of courses also included the subjects of political science, economics, shorthand, and typing, accounting and filing. These subjects were covered in sixteen courses. Today over six times as many courses are offered in the business school.

The School of Commerce and Business Administration has since its founding experienced the largest growth of any of the University's departments. This school's enrollment today is second only to that of the College of Liberal Arts.

Dr. Clive F. Dunham is the Dean of the School of Commerce and Business Administration.

DUDLEY R. HUTCHERSON
Dean of the Graduate School

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Although honorary M.A. Degrees were conferred on distinguished graduates from 1848 and 1870, and courses of graduate level were offered from 1870 on, the Graduate School was not established as a school with its own Dean until 1927.

A definite program of graduate study with minimum residence requirements of one academic year was set up in 1890, and fellowships began to be awarded. Before the official establishment of the school in 1927, graduate work was done under the direction of the general faculty acting through a graduate committee; but the Board of Trustees elected a Dean charged with the responsibility of this work. The Graduate School, with its center of studies being the Alexander L. Bondurant Graduate Building is headed by Dean Dudley R. Hutcherson.

The administration of the University is divided into three main divisions, with the head of each division being responsible directly to Chancellor William.

Dr. W. Alton Bryant, Provost of the University works with faculty members and department chairmen in coordinating the operations of the academic division.

Dr. L. L. Love, Dean of Students, heads the Division of Student Personnel, working with the directors of the departments therein, and serves as chief counselor and disciplinary authority for all students.

In the financial division, Mr. W. C. Trotter, Financial Secretary, receives and expends all money. Mr. Carroll North, Comptroller, is in charge of accounting and budgeting of funds and directs the maintenance of buildings and facilities.

Other members of the University of Mississippi administration are Mr. Hugh Clegg, Director of Development; Miss Estella Hefley, Dean of Women; Mr. Malcolm Guess, Dean of Men Emeritus; Dr. V. B. Harrison, Student Health Director; Mr. Robert Ellis, Registrar; Mr. Tom S. Hines, Director of Student Activities; Mr. J. S. Hartin, Director of Libraries; Mr. Marvin Black, Director of Public Relations; Mr. J. W. Webb, Director of Personnel; Mr. William Griffin, Alumni Secretary; Mr. Jeff Hamm, Business Manager of Athletics; Mr. John Vaught, Head Coach; Mr. Claude Smith, Director of Athletics.

It has been under this administration that the University of Mississippi has progressed and expanded in the field of higher learning. Indeed it is an administration of which the students and alumni can be justly proud.

JIMMY CHILD
President of A.S.B.

The Associated Student Body Government is headed by President Jimmy Child. It is his duty to see that all laws of the Constitution are carried out and to promote the general welfare of the students.

The vice-president is Bob True, who serves as the President of the Senate. Dot Allen, the Secretary, records the meetings of the Campus Senate meetings, and Doug Hudgins, as Treasurer, keeps account of all funds disbursed through student activities.

The president appoints his cabinet who help him in his executive duties. The Judicial Council has one elected member to serve as Chairman. The others are appointed by the President of the ASB.

The Student Judicial Council is a po' man's Supreme Court, consisting of five students, one of which is elected by the students to serve as Chairman and the other four are appointed by the ASB President. This Council has the jurisdiction to hear and decide all matters relative to the interpretations of the ASB Constitution and to determine the constitutionality of any laws that are passed by the Campus Senate. The Judicial Council also serves in a disciplinary capacity.

BOB TRUE
Speaker of the Senate

The Campus Senate is the legislative body for the University of Mississippi. This body, which was formed seven years ago under the Constitution of the ASB, controls all matters which are delegated to the student body by the Administration and sets the policies for all student body activities in order that they may be conducted for the best interest of the student body as whole.

The Senate is composed of one member from each section of every dormitory, each fraternity and sorority house, each district in the Veterans Village, two members from the Oxford students, and the president of each of the seven schools at the University. The Chancellor, the Provost, the Dean of the Division of Student Personnel, the Comptroller, the Dean of each school or their representatives, and a representative of the Oxford Chamber of Commerce also serve as members of the ASB Campus Senate.

The President of the Senate is Bob True and the Secretary is Dot Allen, both of whom are elected by the student body. The President Protem is Charles Carruth, and the Sergeant-at-Arms is John Miles. These two officers are elected by the Campus Senate. The President appoints the Parliamentarian, Don Samuels and the Chaplain, Chip Marble.

The ball began rolling way back in August up in Nashville when Editor Joe Durrett made up the dummy for the 1956 OLE MISS with the help of Buddy Shaw. The ball rolled too fast for Joe and Banks Shepherd, a repeat editor, took the reins to bring the book in to the finish line.

Helping with the task of getting out a year book were Peggy Neely and Mary Virginia McInnis, who did the proof reading of the class section and much of the sorting of the pictures for the classes. Tom Hines and Nancy Andrews were the poets of the Greek section. All of the copy that went into the printers was typed up by Billy "Speed Demon" Hicks.

At any time of the year one could see Lee Davis 'Freddy Flashbulb' Thames carrying camera, flash bulbs, exposure meter, and tripod to all parts of the campus to take some picture for the annual.

Helping to hinder the progress of the annual were Ed Wilburn Hooker and Kinloch Gill, who made up the set back crew. Also lending a hand in this slowing down process was Mary Ann 'Nuisance' Murphree who worried the editor day and night.

Over in the business side of the annual, Business Manager Martin Ryland had as his right-hand woman, Laura Sharpe who wheedled ad out of the merchants in this area. It was these two who had the unpleasant task of filling the pages of the organizational section. Next year's Business Manager-to-be Charles Humphrey ably assisted this money mad crew in their financial warrier.

All in all, the job was a pleasant one and now we sit here in Nashville writing this copy. I am in hope that you, the reader will enjoy the book as much as we the staff have enjoyed publishing the 1956 OLE MISS.

Mississippian Staff at Work

THE MISSISSIPPIAN, The Rebel's weekly news-sheet, is thrust into the hands of the students every Friday except when the press refuses to print on Fridays. Then it may be Saturday or even Sunday.

If the last edition of the paper rolls off the press as scheduled this year, THE MISSISSIPPIAN will wind up forty-five years of existence. This forty-fifth year has been no uneventful one as editorial stands were boldly taken on controversial issues, the nation was scooped with the news of the death of the Rebels' beloved "Blind Jim," and the staff tallied yellow poll sheets until midnight was long past.

Wallace Sherwood, the number one man on the staff was the recipient of hot 'n' mild letters to the editor which landed in Box 186. Jean Guyton, second in command, barely managed to pound out a column each Tuesday and did likewise with the editing lab on Wednesday nights. Panny Flautt assisted Editor Sherwood and racked her brain for five-letter words to fit into headlines.

News Editor Walter Hurt (WHH3) cracked the whip over the poor hard-working freshmen reporters and staff writers, while Betty Bach and Earl Solomon filled the inside pages with the social and sports accounts. Bonita Appleton set the campus record for interviews during her reign as feature editor. Bill Ray and Don Thompson also contributed feature-wise.

Betty Garner assisted Hurt first semester with Amy Bagwell and Boone Shelton taking over second go round. Bernard Mackey covered the theatre. Society writers were Diana Schroeder and Peggy Evans. Sports helpers were Travis Stallworth, Dick Kice, and Bill Shellhammer. Charles Forber snapped the shutter for campus cuties and other pix.

The business staff took all year to get settled as a staff. Bob Quinnelly led off as business manager and then turned the combination of the safe over to Neal Gregory. Third time is charm, so Mary Booth took the post the second semester and rationed out the copy paper for the remainder of the year. Booth hounded the merchants for ads the first semester before switching jobs with Gregory the second term. Jimmy Johnston and Charles Scott aided and abetted the business manager. Joanne Falls and Billy Joor assisted with the ad selling and W. H. Corley helped circulate.

THE MISSISSIPPIAN circulates on the campus, throughout the state, to college newspaper staffs, and to anyone else who will cough up the dollar subscription rates. Circulation Manager Ray Mikell handled the stencil cutting, making and distributing.

Stan Kenton Plays in the Chapel

The Associated Student Body Dance Committee plays a very important role in the life of every Ole Miss student. We here at Ole Miss feel that all work and no play makes Colonel Rebel a dull student. With Billy Russell as Chairman, the Dance Committee has done a fine job in providing entertainment for the students. Before Christmas, they brought such well known stars as Stan Kenton and The Four Freshmen to the campus for concerts. These stars and others like them were well received at Ole Miss, playing to standing room only.

Kenton talks with Chairman Russell and date

In addition to bringing famous celebrities in the entertainment world to the campus, it is the duty of the Dance Committee to decorate for all of the ASB dance and to provide a representative at all campus wide dances to help out where needed.

The ASB President appoints the Chairman of the Dance Committee. It is the Chairman who, in turn, selects the other members of the Dance Committee.

The Moot Court Board is composed of students of the School of Law who are chosen by the faculty for their scholastic record. This board gives the students excellent experience in conducting themselves in actual court room procedure and in the handling of general office work. The Board arranges cases for the students to try. Students prepare briefs, argue appellate cases, and conduct trial cases. The judge in the trials are advanced students, faculty members, and practicing lawyers and judges. In appellate cases, Professor Joel W. Bunkley serves as faculty advisor while Bramlett Roberts is the faculty advisor to the general practice division.

MISSISSIPPI LAW JOURNAL

The "Mississippi Law Journal," the official publication of the Mississippi State Bar, was established in 1928. It is published four times a year under the Bar's auspices by the students of the School of Law of the University of Mississippi.

The Editorial Staff is composed of students who also write some of the articles, but most of the material is written by jurymen from all parts of the country.

The "Law Journal" reviews outstanding litigations as well as current treatises on the general subject of law. It publishes the proceedings of the annual meeting of the Mississippi State Bar Association, articles by eminent writers on legal subjects, notes and comments written by the students on recent decisions, and other matters of interest to the legal profession.

Miss Ole Miss and Colonel Rebel

Friendliness . . . Personality . . . Love for Ole Miss . . . School Spirit . . . these are the qualifications for the University of Mississippi's highest electoral honor.

This year the titles went to Shirley Wagner of Grenada and Buddy Alliston of Florence. Shirley has been head cheerleader for two years and a campus favorite representing Delta Delta Delta for three years. This year she is Vice-President of the Women's Recreational Association.

As everyone knows, Buddy played football for the SEC champs, the Ole Miss Rebels. He received all SEC recognition playing guard and was selected as the outstanding lineman in The Rebels' 14-13 win over TCU in the Cotton Bowl classic. On the campus Buddy holds the position of Vice-President of the Ole Miss Y and is a member of the M Club.

The two are outstanding students and are well-deserving of their titles, Colonel Rebel and Miss Ole Miss.

HOW THEY WERE SELECTED

The Beauties for the OLE MISS are selected from the forty candidates in the Parade of Favorites. Twenty-five girls are selected by an audience vote at the Parade of Favorites. From these twenty-five girls, a secret committee of students picks five girls to be featured as Beauties in the annual. Pictures of these five are then sent to some nationally known person to be ranked one through five. This year, Bing Crosby ranked the Beauties one through three. They are in order of ranking by Mr. Crosby—Mary Ann Mobley, Betsy Beall and Emily Hall.

The highest honor that can be bestowed on a student at the University of Mississippi is to be selected as a member of the Hall of Fame. The six members that are selected for this honor are chosen on the basis of character, leadership, scholarship, and contribution to the promotion and betterment of Ole Miss.

This honor is done in a manner which is supposedly free from politics. A secret committee of eight students and eight faculty members choose twenty five students who in turn pick the Hall of Fame. All selections are done by secret ballot.

The persons selected to this honor for 1956 are Jimmy Child, Willis Connell, Irving Fuller, Don Samuels, Wally Sherwood, and Bob True.

Head Coach John Vaught has become the most successful of all Ole Miss football coaches. This year he added another successful season to his fine record, as he coached the Rebels to nine wins, one loss, and a victory in the Cotton Bowl over TCU. Under Coach Vaught the Rebels have achieved returns in the past nine years (1947-1955) which have been bested by only seven teams in the country.

The Rebels' offensive line is coached by Bruiser Kinard, who became the state's first All-American in 1936-37. He was All-Pro tackle in 1938-40-41-44 with Brooklyn and in 1946 with the New York Yankees. He is a charter member (one of 32) of the National Football Hall of Fame, and in 1950 was chosen Ole Miss' greatest all-time athlete.

Coach Buster Poole was another all-time great at Ole Miss in 1934-37. Selected as an all-Pro end with the N.Y. Giants in 1946, he is rated by many critics as the best defensive wingman ever to play pro football. After his great 1946 season he came to Ole Miss as end coach and began tutoring the defensive line in 1951.

Backfield Coach Junie Hovious was named to the all-time All-Southeastern Conference team in 1943. Returning to Ole Miss in 1946, he assisted in coaching the backs, and coached the freshman and "B" teams until 1951 when he was made defensive backfield coach. Hovious also coaches the varsity golf team.

Backfield Coach Johnny Cain is a product of the University of Alabama. An All-American in 1933, he played a part in the defeat of Washington State in the Rose Bowl in 1930. Coach Cain was made a member of the staff in 1947.

Freshman Coach Wobble Davidson, co-captain of the 1941 Ole

Miss football team, has compiled one of the most outstanding "B" team and freshman rushing records in the country. From the record of three games in 1951 through the first two games in 1955 the Rebel juniors went unbeaten through 13 engagements, winning twelve and tying one. His overall record is 12-2-1.

With a background that includes a dozen years of college and professional football, Ray Poole returned to Ole Miss last May as an assistant coach and scout. A 1946 All-Southeastern end in his last season with the Rebels, he went on to star for the New York Giants for six seasons, where he was all-pro, and then transferred to Montreal in the Canadian League for several seasons, where he was selected to be on the league's all-star team.

As the athletic department's official contact representative, Tom Swayze is one of its most valuable staffers. He was one of Ole Miss' finest all-round athletes during the thirties, playing end in football in 1930-31-32, and left-handed baseball pitcher in 1931-32-33. In addition, Swayze is also baseball coach.

Doc Knight came to Ole Miss in 1947 as trainer and track coach. A trainer is usually concerned only with getting the team in good physical condition, but Doc is also famous for keeping the boys in the right frame of mind by his writings posted on their locker doors.

Coach Country Graham serves as a scout and assistant freshman coach during the football months, but his main calling is coaching Rebel basketball. Coach Graham lettered in football at end in 1936-37-38 and became Mississippi's first All-American basketball player. During his 1936-37-38 era, he set 36 Southeastern Conference scoring records, some of which still stand.

The M Club of the University of Mississippi is composed of those men who have lettered in one of the University's major intercollegiate sports, which are football, basketball, baseball, and track.

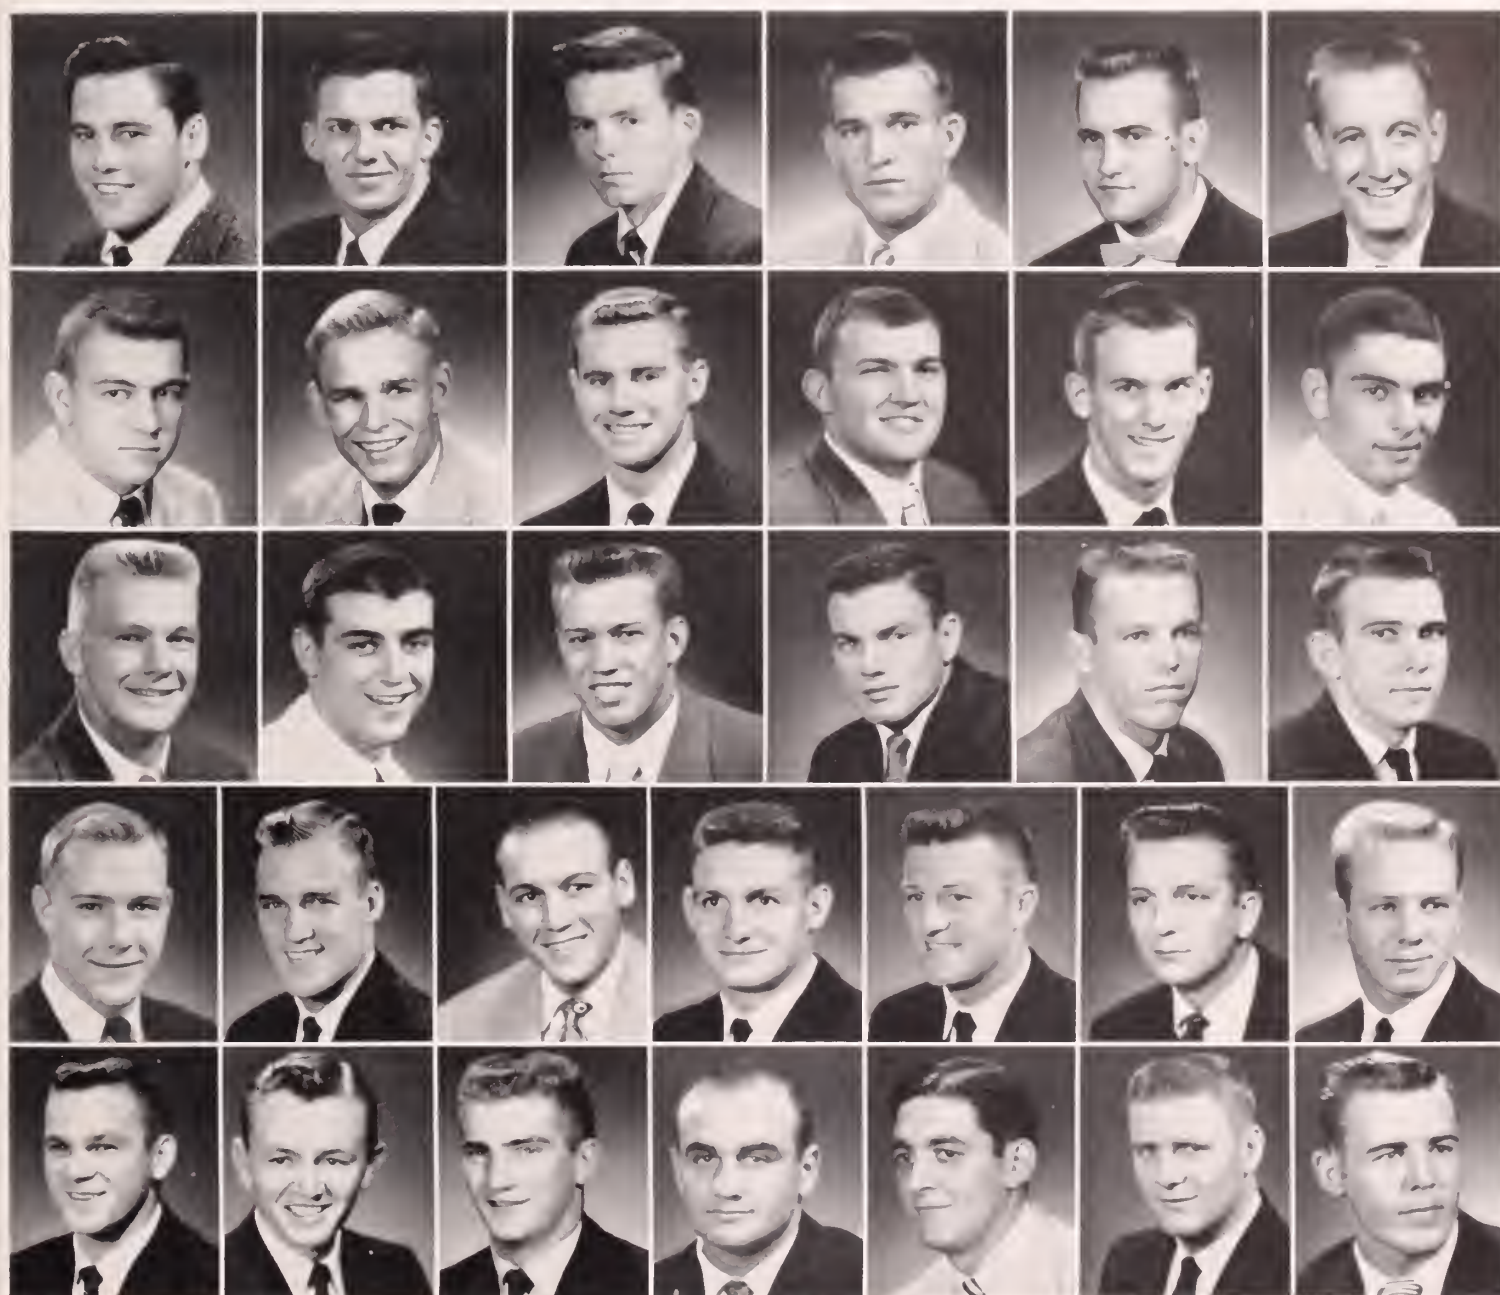

The purpose of the M Club is to promote excellence in athletic ability and to promote the general welfare of athletics on the Ole Miss campus. Only the members of the M Club are qualified to wear the Ole Miss "M," which distinguishes these men as winners of the athletic award.

Each year the M Club sponsors the annual M Club dance which is held sometime during the football season. Also during the season, an annual M Club Day is held at which time the club alumni are invited to return to the campus and be honorary guests. To wind up the social activities, the M Club has a final party after initiation of the spring members.

SOUTHEASTERN CHAMPIONS

Prior to 1955, only Louisiana State in 1935-36 and Georgia Tech in 1943-44 had linked together successive Southeastern Conference football championships — unshared titles, that is.

And the Johnny Rebs, by virtue of their championships in 1954-55, now are members of this exclusive company.

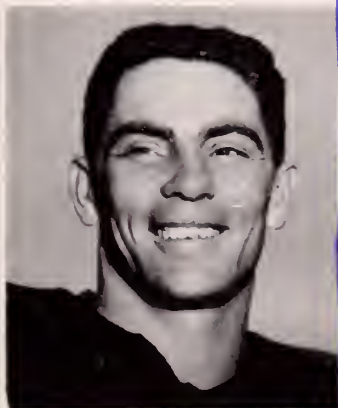

Moreover, they reign as unofficial Dixie Champions by virtue of their stirring 14-13 Cotton Bowl victory over Texas Christian, the Southwest Conference champion.

The records posted were identical—9-1 overall and 5-1 in SEC results—through the 1954-55 campaigns. Both defeats were by single touchdowns, 0-6 to Arkansas in '54 in a game ruled as official in Conference play to register the necessary six games for championship eligibility; and 14-21 to Kentucky in '55.

Elsewhere, the Rebels scored twin victories over Mississippi State, Vanderbilt, Tulane and Louisiana State, a single win over Georgia and divided with Kentucky in SEC results; they broke even with Arkansas over the span, won two games each from Houston, North Texas and Memphis State, a single game from Villanova.

Ole Miss now owns three SEC titles—1947, 1954, 1955.

OLE MISS 14-TCU 13 • OLE MISS 14-TCU 13

It was fourth and three at the Texas Christian 46 and Ole Miss was on the short end of a 13-7 scoreboard reading in the 20th Cotton Bowl classic. Time also was a factor—just over six minutes remaining to be consumed by the clock.

So there was an Eagle Day pass in the flat to Paige Cothren and Cothren hoofed for 13 yards to extend the Rebel lifeline. Billy Lott rammed for three, then Day retreated for a pass, found the airplanes guarded and tucked the ball away for a personal trip to the goal. He squirmed through several crevices of daylight, was finally brought to rest at the TCU 5.

From that point Lott blazed a path wide across the Rebel right side and tallied the points that upped Ole Miss to 13-13. Cothren followed with a perfect placement—"And, boy, was I scared I might miss it," he told later—and the Rebs were ahead to say, 14-13, with four minutes and 22 seconds of playing time remaining.

TCU led 7-0 by scoring late in the opening period. It was a 72-yard drive culminated by Jimmy Swink's 1-yard plunge at left tackle. Harold Pollard added the extra point. Eddie Crawford promptly raced 59 yards for a Rebel touchdown that was voided by penalty, and then it was Swink's turn again and he upped the Horned Frogs total to 13 with a remarkable 39-yard run.

It was at this point that a penalty wiped out Pollard's placement point. Trying again from the 17, he missed.

Four plays later the Rebs were back in business. From the kickoff return to their 34, they traveled 66 yards on Day's passes to Billy Kinard and Earl Blair, good for 42—a 21-yard advance up trap alley by Cothren, and his culminating 3-yard plunge at left tackle. He kicked the point for 13-7.

Time ran out on the red-hot Rebels at the half—they were knocking on the Froggie goal from 7-yards out. And TCU twice threatened after intermission. But there was no more scoring until the final stanza when Ole Miss again drove 66 yards for the tying and winning points.

The Frogs—the Southwest Conference champions—had been favored by 7 points. But the Rebs provided the lone upset of the Jan. 2 bowl afternoon. They were a gallant bunch as they stormed back from a 13-0 deficit. And the victory earned for them the unofficial title of Dixie Champions. Day was named the game's Outstanding Back with Guard Buddy Alliston named the Outstanding Lineman. Alliston later was elected permanent captain of the team with Center Gene Dubuisson elected alternate captain.

OLE MISS

There was the game with Eastern Kentucky, top-seeded in the yearly Blue-Gray tournament in Montgomery. It was the first-round show for both teams, No. 1 (Eastern) vs. No. 4 (Ole Miss) in tourney pairings.

Final score: Ole Miss 95, Eastern Kentucky 92. The date: December 16, 1955.

Two months and a week later, Eastern rang up one of the season's big upsets when it decimated nationally-ranked Louisville, a team which later emerged as the National Invitation Tournament champion.

So, winning in such fast company in December, how come the Rebels couldn't scramble with the best in their own Southeastern conference?

From Vanderbilt on January 14 through Tennessee on February 13, Ole Miss hoopsters dropped eight straight games. How come?

Overall, they won 11 of 24 games including six at the start, all in December, and four of their last six. Inside the SEC there were only four of 14 games in the victory ledger.

Reb troubles didn't start the evening of December 17 in the Blue-Gray meet finals. But that was their first defeat. Ahead 41-39 at the half, they simply ran out of gas against a much taller team—the Texas Longhorns—losing 86-72. They had buried too much energy in the defeat of Eastern.

Leading off with Arkansas State in a return game at Jonesboro, then the SEC openers on the campus with Alabama and Auburn, the Rebels looked for successful entry into January competition and might have had it had not a Christmas vacation flu bug sidelined ace marksman Joe Gibbon and a lame leg affected the play of Capt. Jerry Bynum, seasoned guard starter.

Those were the first of six injury and Ailment factors which affected Rebel results through the rest of the campaign.

Gibbon and Bynum were used sparingly against Arkansas State, a 78-71 winner on Jan. 4, and this was the same Arkansas club Ole Miss had whipped 95-79 earlier.

Gibbon injured a finger on his shooting hand—the left one—the evening of January 6. Alabama's Tide invaded the next night and won a 69-65 battle with Gibbon scoring only seven points. Two nights later against Auburn he counted 36 in a 76-69 Ole Miss triumph.

'Bama, it should be mentioned, won 14 straight SEC games to unseat Kentucky as the 1956 SEC champion. It was never closer to defeat in league action than in its bout with the Rebs.

A heavy cold affected Capt. Bynum's play in early January games. Gibbon later missed participation against Arkansas and Mississippi State in mid-season because of an arm injury. Bobby Thacker, a promising sophomore forward, was a scholastic victim at mid-term. And a sprained ankle put soph guard Bobby Williams, a late-season regular, on the sidelines for the last four games.

At the start, Coach Bonnie Graham believed that his squad, basically a rebuilt aggregation with sophomore reinforcements, had to move out at full speed and maintain its early momentum if it was to be successful.

This objective was achieved. The Rebs were rolling at the start. They impressed in knocking off Howard, 113-62; the powerful Meridian Stars, 88-84; David Lipscomb, 109-78; Arkansas State, 95-79; and Howard again, 108-74, into the tourney inaugural with Eastern Kentucky.

What developed thereafter shouldn't have, particularly not to the Rebels who have been victimized frequently by injuries in recent years. They've more than had their share and this year's bench wasn't deep enough in experience to take the inroads.

The Rebels lost games they could have won. They came back to play good, sound basketball but were seldom with their early-season trust. Part of the momentum the Rebels had built at the start was lost with the games that were lost.

After Auburn, Graham's squad gave Vanderbilt's nationally ranked line up a full-court run for its money before bowing 86-73 at Nashville, almost the same score by which the Commodores later were felled in Kentucky. There was an inept performance against Georgia Tech in a 79-58 loss at Atlanta.

Playing without Gibbon, Ole Miss was beaten by Arkansas' power team in Memphis, 85-69, in a battle that was exceedingly close for 34 minutes. Again without Gibbon, Ole Miss lost a 100-79 game on the campus to basket-hot Mississippi State.

The loss to Tulane in New Orleans—by 93-82—was worse than the score indicated. Gibbon returned to count 32 points. Louisiana State by 100-76 and Kentucky by 88-49 buried the Rebs in action at Baton Rouge and Lexington.

Tennessee pulled one out of the fire in the late minute at Knoxville, 65-63, but 51 per cent accuracy from the floor paid dividend at Johnson City when Ole Miss cracked its loss-run, 72-69 against East Tennessee. The Rebs fired up and walloped Georgia by 105-65 and Florida at 90-77 both on the home court.

And Tulane was outplayed, was outscored from the floor 34

Lindsey lays up a crisp shot for two points field goals to 32. But the Wave, fouled only 13 times in New Orleans, drew only a dozen at Ole Miss. The difference in free-throw points counted heavily, Tulane winning 83-81.

LSU was spanked 81-70 in the last home game of the year and State College won the annual cage series for the first time since 1943 by taking the campaign finale, 82-74 at Starkville.

Minus the graduate All-American center, Denver Brackeen, and his 27.2-point average; with at least five rookies scheduled for important roles, and with the Rebs giving away backboard height to one and all, it wasn't figured they would emerge as a championship contender.

In good health, however; with team unity in full force throughout the three-month season, there would have been a half-dozen more victories, a half-dozen fewer losses. The 11-13 record would have been respectable at 17-7.

At season's end, Gibbon was rated the best shot in the SEC, was a second team All-SEC selection. He scored 489 points in 22 games for a 22.2-point average. His single-game highs were 36 points against Auburn, 34 against Georgia, 32 against Florida, Tulane and David Lipscomb.

Gibbon's point total was the fourth-highest ever recorded by a Rebel player. He ranked third in SEC average-scoring per game for the campaign, was high on the national chart. Also his percentage in field goal firing was a remarkable 44.1 per cent.

Capt. Bynum, one of the very best at his guard post in the Conference, averaged 16.6 points a game with a total of 398 in 24 outings. He was a driving, highly-efficient all-court performer, a fine leader. Scorewise his best games were Howard, 29 points; Vanderbilt, 26; Eastern Kentucky, 25; East Tennessee, 24; Florida, 23, and Tulane, 22 and 21. He was voted a berth on the Blue-Gray tournament all-star team. He percentaged at 42.6 in field goal accuracy.

Early and late, Wade Lindsey, a junior college transfer and ex-GI playing a guard role, was an accurate outcourt shooter, finishing with 9.3 points a game. Bobby Robinson, a forward who averaged 6.9 points a game; Bobby Williams, 6.1, a guard, and Carlton Garner, 5.9, a forward, were the most productive of the sophomores. Centers James Miller, tallest of the Rebs at 6'5" and Wayland Inman and senior guard Bill Stokes made important contributions through the campaign.

Inman, who averaged 6.8 points a game, tied a Conference record and established a new school mark when he tallied 17 free-throw points (17 of 19) against Eastern Kentucky. Miller averaged 4.5 points a game.

Coach Graham awarded letters to Gibbon, Robinson and Garner, forwards; Inman and Miller, centers, and Capt. Bynum, Lindsey, Williams and Stokes, guards. Other Rebs participating, all sophomore forwards, were Carter Brown, Jimmy Hunt and Bobby Thacker.

The Rebel infield

As the season developed, it turned out that the most important games of the 1955 baseball campaign were the games the Rebels did not get to play, or complete.

From the standpoint of victories against defeats, it was the most successful Ole Miss season since 1929. That year's Reb array won 19 of 22 games, capturing the championship in the original Southern Conference. The 1955 Rebs, who did not haul down a title, won 16 of 19 games.

In Southeastern conference play the record was 10 victories and three defeats. It was a second-best record all across the board. Coach Tommy Swayze's "gang" trailed

Kinard, Crawford and Dickerson, fly-chasers

Alabama to the wire for the SEC Western Division crown and in overall standings.

Alabama went on to whip Georgia, 2-0 in game, in the East-West championship playoffs.

The game that levered the Western title in Bama's direction was the second of two at Tuscaloosa, after the Rebels had evened series results at 1-1 with a 10-5 decision. John Paul Anderson, a lefthander, ushered the Rebels out of the title chase by hurling a five-hitter for an 8-1 Tide triumph. The win put Alabama's final record at 12-2, a half-game over the best the Rebs could have achieved even with a four game sweep over Mississippi State.

That was the most crucial of the 19 games played, but only because the weatherman impeded Ole Miss progress early in the season. The bare results may serve as the best explanation:

Delta State, two games cancelled, rain; Tulane, 1-0; Tulane, cancelled, cold weather; LSU, 6-2, 16-3; Tulane, 10-0; Tulane, cancelled after 3 1/2 innings, darkness; Kansas State cancelled, rain; Northern Illinois, 13-4, 4-0; Alabama, 1-3; Alabama, cancelled, rain; Wheaton, 7-2 10-1; LSU, 9-3 5-3; Arkansas State, 8-1; 11-1; Alabama, 10-5, 1-8; Mississippi State, 4-5, 4-2, 9-4, 10-4.

Losing the second of four games with Tulane (to the weatherman) in New Orleans was bad enough, but the one that hurt was the last of the series here when darkness rubbed out a 4-0 Rebel lead after 3 1/2 innings. That one was cast as the nightcap of a rain-forced twin bill, a pair of seven-inning games.

Then, the team figured to do no worse than break even here with Alabama, after dropping the series inaugural 3-1. But rain cost Ole Miss that chance. So, the games that weren't played were vital. The Rebs ran out of games—not out of victories.

It should be mentioned that the Rebels led Kansas State 5-0 after an inning before that one was wiped off the slate.

They were a great college team all the way, largely a sophomore-junior lineup. Under Swayze's attentive coaching, there was a 2.20 earned run average as compiled by six pitchers, a team hitting mark of .286.

Bernie Schreiber, who repeated as the All-Southeastern second baseman, led the club in hitting with .354. He teamed with Pepper Thomas, a crack shortstop, to form the best keystone pair in the SEC. Other infield regulars were Bill Scott at first base, Buddy Garrison and Rush Peace at third. The outfield mainstays were Billy Kinard in left field and Eddie Crawford in center. Dave Dickerson and John Lee Gainey divided time in right field.

The catchers, both sophomores, were Buddy Chain and Jerry Bynum. The front-line pitchers (won-lost records and earned run averages in parenthesis) were Buddy Wittichen (5-0, 2.79); Archie White (3-0, 2.36); Lefty Joe Gibbon (1-0, 2.38); Don Goad (3-1, 1.71); Eagle Day (3-1, 1.66), and Dick Shelton (1-1, 2.87).

Dick Brock at first base, Bobby Jenkins in a general utility role, and Bob Neblett, a senior pitcher, were other Rebs participating during the campaign.

After Schreiber, leading hitters were Gainey, .333; Scott, .316; Brock, .308; Kinard, .302; Thomas, .290; Bynum, .269; Peace, .263; Chain, .255; Dickerson, .250, and Crawford, .247.

Among the pitchers, Shelton hit .500, Gibbon, .400, and White, .294. Crawford led in stolen bases with eight, Scott and Thomas in two baggers with six, Schreiber in triples with three, Thomas in home runs with two, and Schreiber and Scott in runs batted in with 14 each.

T R A C K I N 1 9 5 5

Usually, when the Rebels have jet speed in the sprints and shorter cinder runs, they lack team balance in the distance races. And when there are able milers, half-milers and related runners, the dash men are only mediocre.

Such was the case in 1955—little team balance with the sprinters the hot-foot runners; only, ineligibility and injuries played a role to wipe out practically every A-1 cinder threat before the campaign was opened.

Field event competitors come and go, but ineligibility made inroads even in this direction in limiting '55 rewards.

The story is best told by dual meet results, with Coach Wes (Doc) Knight's squad winning only one of four events: Memphis State, 30½-100½; Vanderbilt, 30-90; Mississippi State, 34½-95½, and Arkansas State, 81-54.

The Rebs who were there included Joe Hayes, hurdles, 24 points; Jimmy Patton, sprints and javelin, 21½; Charles Burke, weights, 19; Bruce Brady, broad jump, 15; John Wallace Blalack, javelin, 14; Dick Weiss, weights, 11; Ray Funderburk, 440 and discus, 9; Bill Simerville, pole vault, 9; Denver Brackeen, high jump, 9; Marvin Watson, mile and two-mile, 8; Jimmy Collins, javelin and 880, 7; Earl Blair, sprints, 5; Jerry McKaskel, sprints, 3; Eddie Crawford, sprints, 2, and Gene Dubuisson, shot, 1.

Among the Rebs who were not there: Blair, after the first meet, who led the team in scoring in 1953; Billy Yelverton, sprints and weights, who led the team in scoring in 1954; Johnny Barber, Southern Relays 100-yard winner in 1953, and Red Muirhead, letterman sprinter.

OLE MISS MINOR SPORTS

GOLF

With the campus golf course being revised and refurbished, Ole Miss played an abbreviated match schedule in 1955. The emphasis was on tournament play and the Johnny Rebels did right well in this category, retaining their title in the State Intercollegiate meet over the Jackson Country Club course.

There was one campus encounter, the Rebels whipping Western Illinois State 15-6 in Nassau scoring. In Memphis, the Rebs dropped a 15½-5½ encounter to Memphis State and topped Southwestern 10-8, both encounters over the Colonial C.C. layout.

In the state meet Lewis Culley of Jackson retained his individual championship with medal rounds of 69-67—136, six under par. Bedford Bradley of Clarksdale had 69-76—

145 for second place; Bob Travis of Jackson had 71-75—146 for third, and Willis Conne'l of Clarksdale went 74-76—150 to share fourth with John Gilliland of Mississippi State. The Rebs aggregated 577 strokes to lead Millsaps with 618, Mississippi Southern with 626 and State College with 636.

The Rebs made a representative showing in the Southern Intercollegiate tournament and in the Greenwood Invitational, and Culley and Travis qualified for title play in the NCAA meet at Knoxville. Culley advanced to the finals of the State Amateur tournament, losing 1-up in 36 holes to Eddie Merrins of Meridian.

Bill Hamilton, a Naval officer, participated in match play.

TENNIS

A third-place finish in the yearly State intercollegiate Tournament and three victories in ten matches featured Ole Miss tennis action in 1955.

The Rebels broke even in matches with Southwestern, 2-7 and 5-4, and Memphis State, 4-5 and 6-3, and spanked Alabama by 8-1. They lost encounters with Auburn, 2-7; Florida, 0-9; Millsaps, 2-7 and 3-6, and Vanderbilt, 0-9. Exhibition matches were won by the Jacksonville, Fla., Tennis Club, 5-4, and Jacksonville Navy, 9-0.

Tommy Elliott of Oxford, Buddy Williamson of Little Rock and Leighton Pettis, when he could secure leave from medical studies, shared No. 1 singles assignments. Jack Milligan of Oxford, Wayne Dawson of Magnolia, George Day of Inverness and Hunter Little of Grenada were other Rebels participating.

Singles results scored by the squad, coached by J. W. (Wobble) Davidson, follow: Elliott, 3-7; Williamson, 5-5; Pettis, 4-2; Milligan, 4-4; Dawson, 2-8; Little, 1-5; Day, 2-7. The Rebs scored nine points in the state tournament, Williamson and Day advancing to the finals of the second flight doubles.

The Ole Miss band, under the direction of Mr. Lyle Babcock, proved this year to be one of the best groups that the University has produced. Johnny Hoar, signal drum major, and Sondra Beck, assistant drum major, led the band during the halftime shows.

This year the Rebel band displayed its marching ability in executing difficult precision drills. Aided by the Rebelttes, the band's halftime performances were both colorful and imaginative. Perhaps the best show was given at the Cotton Bowl when the giant rebel flag was again displayed.

The band will always be remembered for adding school spirit and color at parades, pep rallies, and football games.

"Hotty Totty"—this famous Rebel yell was led throughout the football season by the Ole Miss cheerleaders. The eight cheerleaders, headed by Shirley Wagner, were all important in instilling school spirit in the Ole Miss student body. Always doing their best, the cheerleaders helped bring praise to the University.

At Memphis, Oxford, or Dallas—wherever they went, "the loyal eight" made Rebel spirits brighter.

The Intramural Council was formed at the University of Mississippi in 1935. The purpose of the Council was to organize the athletic activities of male students who were not participating in varsity sports. The intramural teams include teams from the social fraternities, the independent, and Anchor and Chain. The Intramural sports schedule include football, basketball, softball, tennis, shuffleboard, horse shoes, ping pong, and golf. Each year the team with the most points for the year gets its name on the Intramural Trophy, and the team may have possession of the trophy for a year.

ODK is the national honorary leadership fraternity for men at the University of Mississippi. Invitations for membership are extended twice each year to students and faculty who have been recognized for character, leadership and service in campus life, scholarship, fellowship, and consecration to democratic ideals.

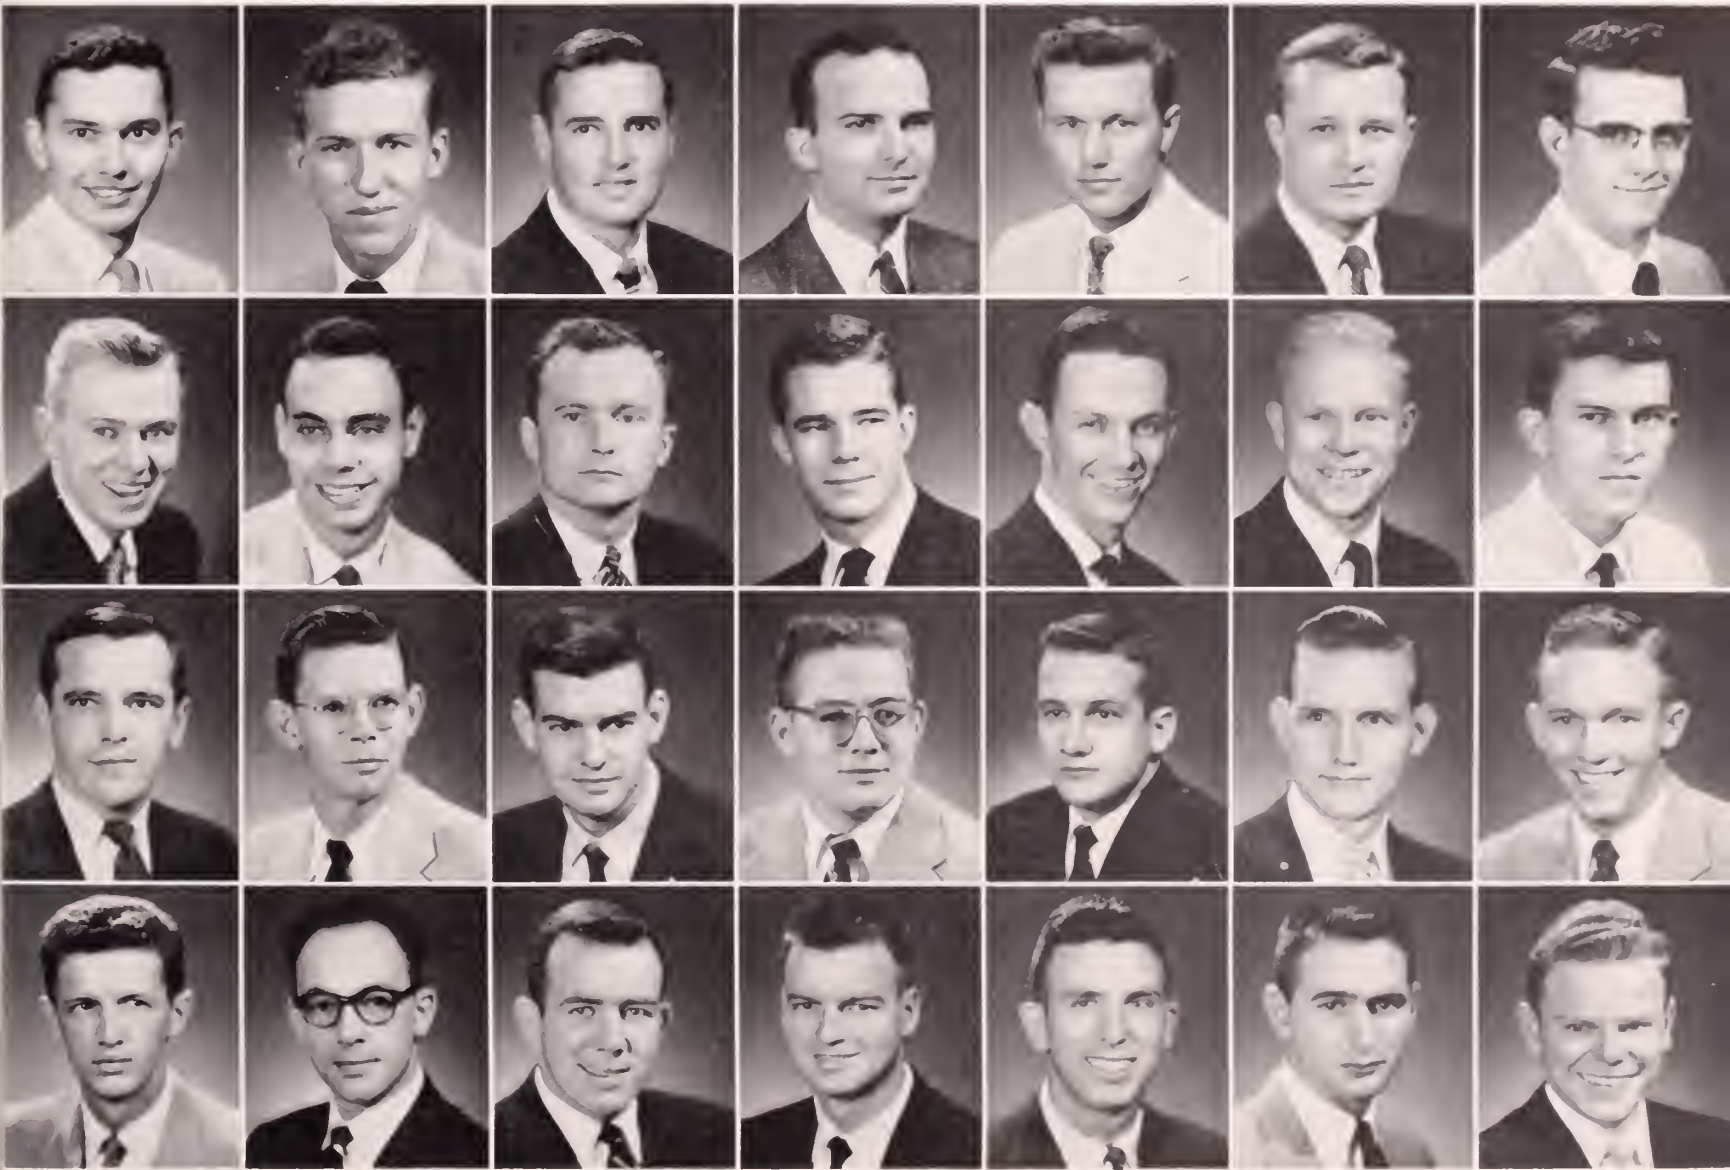

The Alpha Phi Circle was installed at Ole Miss in 1936. The original chapter, founded at Washington and Lee University in 1914, had as its purposes: one, to recognize men who had attained a high standard of efficiency in collegiate activities and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous attainments along similar lines; two, to bring together the most representative men in all phases of collegiate life and thus to create an organization which will help to mold the sentiment of the institution on questions of local and inter-collegiate interest; and three, to bring together members of the faculty and student body of the institution on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

This year ODK has sponsored a series of forums which have been helpful in keeping students informed about current affairs.

Delta Sigma Pi is an international professional commerce and business administration fraternity. Alpha Phi chapter was established at the University of Mississippi in 1927.

The Alpha Phi Chapter works in close cooperation with the faculty of the School of Commerce in order to bring about any changes which will make for better feeling between the faculty and the business students.

Each year the Delta Sigma Pi fraternity together with the School of Commerce and Business Administration sponsors an annual Commerce Day. Toward the end of the year Delta Sigma Pi holds its annual Rose Ball; it is at that time that the "Rose of Delta Sigma Pi" is presented.

Membership in this honorary fraternity is limited to men in the School of Commerce and Business Administration who meet the necessary scholastic requirements and the approval of the faculty.

Scabbard and Blade is a national honorary military fraternity for advanced Air ROTC, Army ROTC, and Naval ROTC students. Company "B," 8th Regiment, was founded at the University of Mississippi in 1940.

The PREAMBLE to the Constitution of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade reads: "Believing that military service is an obligation of citizenship, and that the greater opportunities afforded college men for the study of military science place upon them certain responsibilities as citizens. We, Cadet Officers in various Universities and Colleges conferring baccalaureate degrees, do form this Society and adopt this Constitution in order to unite in closer relationship the military departments of American Universities and Colleges; to preserve and develop the essential qualities of good and efficient officers; to prepare ourselves as educated men, to take a more active part, and to have a greater influence in the military affairs of the communities in which we may reside; and above all to spread intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country."

 They chosen these girls to lead the rest:
 Golda Jones holds the president's chair
 It's Charlene Rice when she's not there.
 Betty Fant just calls the roll
 While Katherine Bailey takes the toll.
 Beauties Mobley, Brown, and Hall
 Gain the praises of us all.
 Fannie Brumfield and Bess Moore
 Hold top campus posts galore.
 Two cute favorites, Justice and Bolling,
 Help to keep the old "tong" rolling.

 HENRY MOUNGER Vice-President
 HOBART HECTOR Secretary
 JIM LOUIS GARNER Treasurer

This outfit anchored at Ole Mississippi in 1877 and couldn't be exterminated. . . . Connell wields the big stick and Henry Mounger backs him up. . . . "Roadrunner" Hector takes everything down in true legal style, while Treasurer Garner is well fixed after a year of cool, steady, graft. . . . Shepherd made a repeat performance as OLE MISS editor. . . . Jerry Siler heads Chi Epsilon while Spragins does the same with the Arnold Air Society. . . . They've got the "Y" monopolized with Philp as the big boy, followed by sophomore and freshman prexys, Hines and Holloman. . . . Connell manages to stay busy as Commander of Scabbard and Blade, Chairman of the Committee of 100, President of Beta Gamma Sigma, and Vice-President of ODK. . . . These characters carry dangerous weapons in their pins, and their pledge manual contains a chapter on sword-play. . . . If you ask 'em they'll tell you why she wears their pin, and have been known to come out with "Phi Delta Theta for Aye." . . .

Here at Ole Miss, the student benefits greatly in his association with his fellow student. One of these associations is gained through his fraternity. Here, he learns to work together, play together, and live together. It is through this bond that new friendships are made that will be kept throughout his entire life. With the athletic program sponsored by the Intramural Council, a student may participate in athletic contests with people of his own athletic ability. Everybody looks forward to the spring formals and parties on the week-ends. On the fraternity row there is also a close union between each of the fraternities. There is, of course, competition, but it is carried out on a level as it should be for mature college students. All of this unites with the other characteristics of Ole Miss to make it a great university and a place that we will always hold dear in our hearts as we leave and strive for higher aims in life.

THE ARMY ROTC

Junior Cadets who attended summer camp in 1955 were a well indoctrinated group of Cadet officers for the Cadet Corps this year after six full weeks of training at Fort Benning. The Junior Class went to summer camp with a nine-hour day training schedule in mind, but this illusion quickly vanished when training hours began at the unheard of hours of four and five in the morning and ran into the late hours of the night. After adjustment to the unusual routine, the class finished summer camp with a well rounded knowledge of the operational procedures carried on within the various branches of the Army.

The Cadet officers, ably led by Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Jim Crowe were faced with the task of commanding a battalion that had greatly increased in size. This task was simplified, however, by the overall effort put forth by the Cadets in the battalion to make this year's unit one of the best in the Army ROTC at the University. A result of this was a very successful spring inspection.

The Scabbard and Blade and Pershing Rifles, military honor societies, numbered many active members within the battalion.

Members of the Senior Class and Scabbard and Blade formed a precision drill squad for the first time this year. The squad, part of a platoon composed of Army, Navy, and Air Force Cadets, will represent the University in military drill competitions in the future.

The Rifle Team continued its participation in the Hearst and the Third Army Rifle Matches as well as several shoulder to shoulder and telegraphic matches.

AIR FORCE ROTC

The Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps, originally established at Ole Miss in 1946 as a part of the Army ROTC, has evolved since 1947 into the present Department of Air Science. The Department with an Air Force staff of nine members, functions under the supervision of the University and of Headquarters AFROTC, Air University Command.

The course of instruction, consisting of class work and leadership laboratories, offers training which is designed to instruct the Cadet in all aspects of air power and its importance to the security of the nation and to develop in him those attributes essential in the Air Force Officer.

During the first two years, the academic work consists of a series of related subjects that can best be described as a course in air-age citizenship. In the final two years, the advanced course, stress is placed upon Air Force procedure and applied air tactics.

All Cadets attend a four week summer camp between their Junior and Senior year. These camps are located at various regular Air Force bases. Cadets are afforded the opportunity to participate in orientation flights in late type military aircraft and to observe the application of principles learned in the classroom and leadership laboratory.

NAVAL ROTC

The Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps was established at Ole Miss in June, 1946. It is located in McCain Hall, which is named for the late Admiral John S. McCain, an Ole Miss Alumnus.

The purpose of the NROTC is the training of Ole Miss students for future Naval Careers. NROTC students are classified as either regular or contract midshipmen. Regular midshipmen are under a navy subsidized scholarship during their four years in college. These students are selected by nationwide competitive examinations. Upon receiving their degrees, physically qualified students receive commissions as Ensigns in the Navy or Second Lieutenants in the Marine Corps. All officers thus commissioned must serve three years on active duty. After this period, those officers desiring to make the Navy a career may request such duty, and if selected, are placed in the same status with all other Naval Officers. If at the end of this period they desire to leave the active service, they are commissioned in the Naval Reserve.

Contract students join the Navy unit in school to which they have already been admitted and are subject to the same physical and mental qualifications as the regular students. During their third and fourth years of college these students are paid an allowance for subsistence and, upon graduation, are given commissions in the Navy or Marine Corps Reserve.

A GOOD NEIGHBOR

Producer of more than 70 Petroleum and Chemical products for Transportation, Industry and Agriculture, Lion Oil Company is proud of its leading role in the development of the South's industrial potential.

Lion sends to market each year the equivalent of more than 65,000 railway carloads of products from its three manufacturing plants in Arkansas and Louisiana. It pays approximately $17,500,000 yearly to 3,000 employees in wages and benefits, and it pays another $17,000,000 in taxes. Altogether, Lion puts nearly $100,000,000 into circulation annually throughout its territory.

Industrial development is going ahead in the South on a bigger scale than ever before. Lion Oil Company continues to lead the way with the most advanced methods of manufacturing, finding and producing vital raw materials, and in scientific research. The result: more jobs, better products for consumers, conservation of resources and more efficient use of those resources. No wonder that to Southerners, the Sign of the Lion has truly become the Sign of a Good Neighbor!

A Memorable Year

• Congratulations to the Student Body and Faculty of the University of Mississippi for completion of another outstanding year.

• The Staff of your annual has worked exceedingly hard to give you a superb book and one which portrays the high lights of memorable activities.

• Neither time, effort nor expense have been spared to provide you with a permanent record, attractively presented and complete.

• To preserve the photography and literary efforts of the Staff, the best grade of materials have been combined with skilled workmanship to provide the finest quality yearbook.

• We are proud that the 1956 Staff elected us to help design, print and bind the "Ole Miss." We have endeavored to fulfill the confidence placed in us.
